

BABY, IT'S HOT OUT THERE!

This adorable baby Blue Jay sure has the right idea to stay cool this summer. With mom and dad close by, he deserves a well-earned break from his busy schedule exploring his new world, learning how to find food, navigating new dangers and growing in his tail and flight feathers to one day take to the sky.

The Wild Bird Care Centre has been equally busy this season, having already received over 1000 baby birds and still counting! There is so much to be excited about and grateful for this summer.

OVER $46,000 RAISED FOR BABY BIRDS!

We are overwhelmed with your generous response to this year's Nest of Hope campaign - our most successful yet, raising over $46,000 to help 1000+ injured and orphaned baby birds this season. These funds are critical to continue providing the very best of care so that these young birds can have the very best chance for survival back in the wild.

As a special thank you, please click below to watch this year's baby birds thank you all for your life-saving support. We are so very grateful... View our Baby Bird thank you video here:
